Aqua Creek lifts – compliance with Australian Standards

Aqua creek lifts comply with all the Australian Standard and BCA and Disability Access Standards

Australian Standards:

There used to be an Australian standard AS 3581 that covered pool lifts but this was withdrawn in 2013 and is now superseded by the international standard ISO 10535 – 2006 “Hoists for the transfer of disabled persons”. The Aqua Creeks lifts are certified to comply with this ISO standard. A copy of this ISO certification is on our web site.

Disability ( Access to Premises – building ) Standard 2010 which is part of the “Disability Discrimination Act 1992”

This standard under section D5 sets out the requirements for “accessible water entry / exit for swimming pools” This requires a ramp to be installed or a pool lift be installed that meets the requirements of section D5-4 or section D5-5

Section D5-4 specifies the requirement for a platform lift. The Aqua Creek Pro Pool seated platform lift meets and exceeds this requirement with a capacity of 205 kg.
Section D5-5 specifies the requirements for a sling type lift Aqua Creek manufacture two lifts that meets and exceeds these requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Revolution lift 220 kg capacity</li><li>- Scout 2 lift 170 kg capacity</li></ul> Both lifts come with a seat or sling options

Building Code of Australia ( BCA )

The Aqua creek lifts mentioned above meet the requirements of the BCA

The USA Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirement.

The Aqua Creek lifts have third party certification that they comply with these requirements
